Soviet Reportedly Halts Construction On Bases In Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) —The United States temporarily suspended its arms blockade and aerial surveillance of Cuba on Tuesday as United Nations Acting Secretary-General U Thant opened crucial talks with Prime Minister Fidel Castro in Havana that can ease further the threat of an East-West nuclear war.

The two U.S. moves formed a favorable backdrop for the mission of Thant to set up machinery for inspecting the promised withdrawal from Cuba of Soviet missile bases and bombers.

There were reports the missile site construction, which precipitated the crisis, had been halted.

There were also strong indications, neither denied nor confirmed by the White House or Pentagon, that the United States had offered planes to the United Nations to conduct aerial reconnaissance during the removal of the missile sites.

Thant, expressing hope for a "speedy and peaceful settlement," flew from New York to Havana in 3 hours and 7 minutes, arriving at 1:25 p.m. to implement the agreement arrived at by President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev after a week of crisis.

Worldwide tension was created by Kennedy's disclosure eight days ago that the Soviet Union had brought bombers and medium- and intermediate-range ballistic missiles and bases into Cuba. Khrushchev agreed Sunday to remove the weapons under U.N. scrutiny — a condition Kennedy had demanded before considering an end to the arms blockade.

There was no official announcement that the Soviet Union had halted work on the missile sites, but highly placed informants said such assurances were received Monday. The source of the assurances was not disclosed.

Likewise the Pentagon would not say whether reconnaissance photos confirmed that work had stopped or that dismantling had begun at the missile bases.

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense, told newsmen of the temporary suspension of reconnaissance flights.

Asked if the United States was taking a chance by suspending the aerial reconnaissance for two days, he replied: "Every move that has been taken has been taken with consideration of all contingencies."

Castro Recalls Envoy To U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —Cuban Premier Fidel Castro Tuesday recalled his ambassador to the United Nations while acting Secretary General Thant was in Havana to arrange for U.N. observation of the dismantling of Soviet missile bases in Cuba.

Informed sources said Ambassador Mario Garcia-Inchaustegui, a fiery and emotional speaker, was recalled by Castro because he had proclaimed in the Security Council a week ago that Cuba never would accept U.N. observers.

Garcia-Inchaustegui was to be replaced by Carlos Lechuga, now Cuban ambassador to Mexico. Lechuga, a leading political writer before Castro's 1960 revolution, has had U.N. experience. As a journalist, he was known for his "soft" political line.

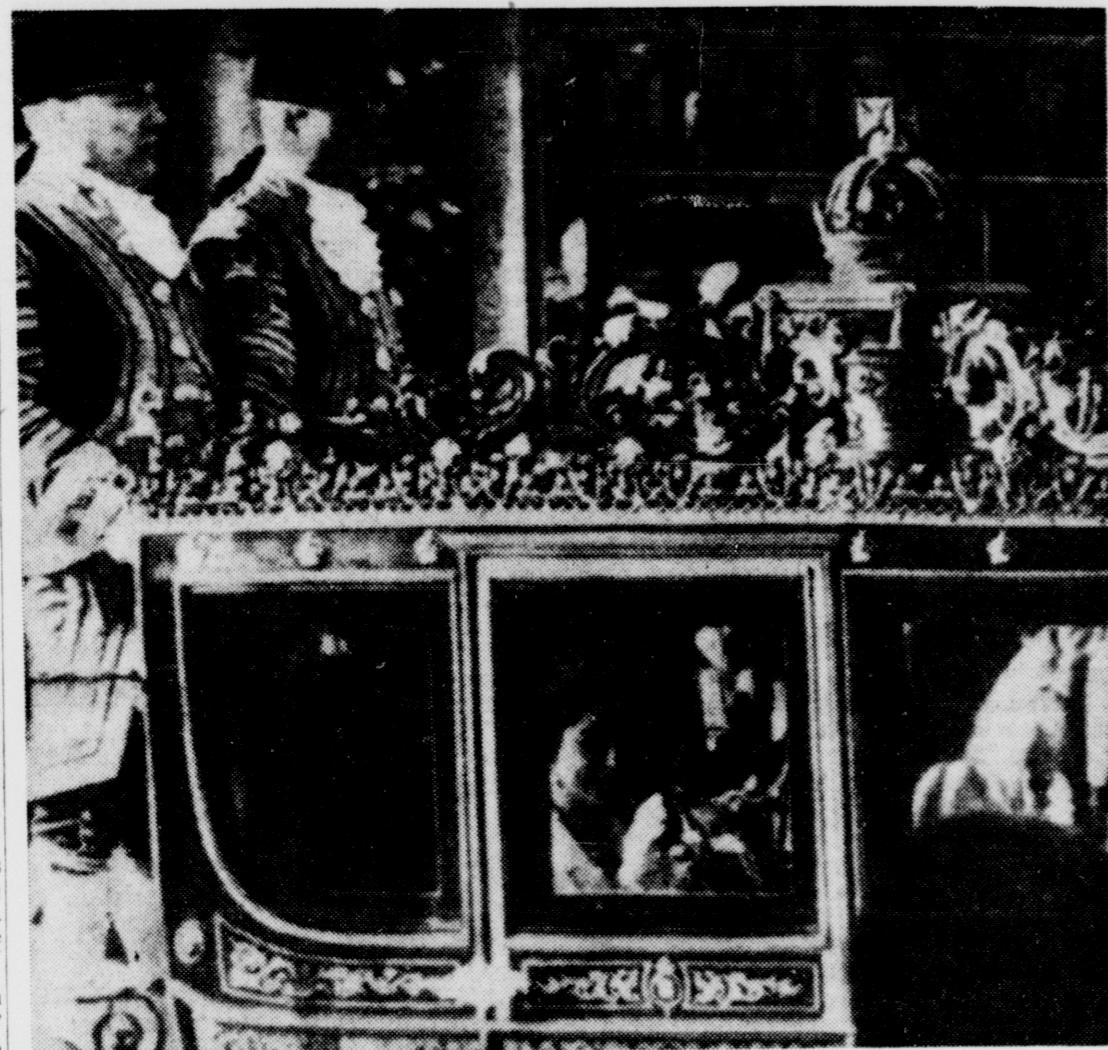

Fallout Shelter Stolen

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) —Missiles in Cuba scare thieves, too. At least some unknown person or persons used a winch to lift a steel fallout shelter onto a truck and drive away last weekend, sheriff's officers reported Monday.

The 3,000-pound shelter belonged to a shelter manufacturer and was in storage.

Pentagon Scans India's Military Shopping List

WASHINGTON (AP) —U.S. and Indian defense officials met again Tuesday to discuss a shopping list of military items urgently needed to bolster Indian resistance to Chinese Communist invaders.

State Department press officer Lincoln White announced that the list has been submitted formally and is undergoing study at the Defense Department.

White said the time of delivery will depend on U.S. capabilities to fill the request. But "we're making arrangements to supply the assistance as quickly as possible," he added.

Military experts said the whole Indian army needs an overhaul, including re-equipment and reorganization if Prime Minister Nehru's pledge to repel the Chinese Communists and regain India's lost territory is to be fulfilled.

U.S. defense officials disclosed that lower-level talks between American and Indian staff officers began Monday at the Defense Department.

The immediate aim is to help Indian troops stop Chinese columns from descending from the Himalayan mountain passes toward the Indian plains.

Pakistan is viewing grimly the alert.

Hartke Says Ike Should Keep Cuba Out Of Politics

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Cuba Eisenhower speech in Syracuse, N.Y., Monday night in which he said the former GOP president "left the clear implication that this was a crisis that would pass and not one that is different" from others.

At Syracuse, Eisenhower said he was proud that Republican congressional leaders "inspired" the resolution "under which the President was able to act" in the Cuban crisis, "forcefully and with the certainty of congressional approval."

Last Thursday, Eisenhower told a Pittsburgh audience that he had a special responsibility to guard his words because of his former office. Then Hartke predicted that some leading Republicans would regret certain statements later.

Almanac Predicts Rough Winter

DUBLIN, N.H. (AP) —Old Abe Weatherwise came out Tuesday with a not-too-cheerful earful about the weather that lies ahead — November through April.

Writing in the 1963 Old Farmer's Almanac, in its 171st continuous year of publication, he tossed out this forecast: "This winter will be quite a bit colder than those of recent years."

Not only will it figure 1.39 degrees chillier than average, he said, but snowfall will also be heavier than last year.

"Looks like a bad March and April," he added for the benefit of those who look forward to an early spring, "and at least one good storm in each of the other months."

His forecast runs from November through April. He decided last year that April should be considered a winter month.

Meanwhile, the University of Mississippi called off a football pep rally scheduled for Tuesday night because of Monday night's firecracker barrage.

In Washington, the Justice Department said Deputy Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach returned to Oxford Tuesday to confer with university officials about the firecracker incident.

In another development, the Student Judiciary Council announced that the university has placed eight students on probation for their part in rioting that erupted when Meredith arrived on the campus the night of Sept. 30.

Key West Alert Still In Effect

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) —American jets flew around-the-clock missions in connection with the Cuban situation Tuesday as the military establishment in this city 90 miles from Havana remained on the alert.

Last Baltimore Jail Breaker Gives Up

BALTIMORE (AP) — The last of through bars of the maximum security wing. The men, Schoonfield said, then climbed over an 18-foot fence using a rope made of blankets and sheets, clambered over a stone wall and lowered themselves to the ground outside the jail.

Roy Allen Nixt, 41, on parole from California and awaiting trial in the fatal shooting of Patrolman Edward J. Kowaleski in Baltimore on July 2, was recaptured in a Baltimore bar after a fierce struggle.

He had been the object of a 13-state manhunt.

Earlier Tuesday, police in Chicago arrested Delmar Doyle Royal, 27, of Middle River, as he stepped off a plane to transfer to another one bound for Los Angeles.

Word that a man resembling Royal had boarded a plane for Chicago was relayed from airline personnel at Friendship International Airport, to airport police, to Baltimore police, and thence to Chicago.

Police said plane passengers were told there was trouble with the plane and they would have to transfer to another to avoid any shooting.

Royal was charged in the $2,336 holdup of a Belair Road supermarket Aug. 17.

Warden Hiram Schoonfield said James and Royal were two of five men who used hacksaws to cut

Land "Scandal" Facts Sought

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The Florida State Chamber of Commerce called Tuesday upon four officials of the National Association of Better Business Bureaus to pinpoint their charges of land scandals in Florida.

Bureau officials from Chicago, Rye, N.Y., Des Moines, Iowa, and Kansas City told a regional conference of the association at Kansas City last week that Florida land promotions of the 1920s were insignificant compared with what was happening now.

Harold Colee, executive vice president of the Florida chamber, issued this statement criticizing the four officials: "Your statement as reported gives an unfair impression and reflects a blanket indictment of Florida real estate developers and home builders with outstanding reputations for honesty and integrity."

"If you have specific facts or particulars concerning any land scandal which appears developing in Florida, I urge you to forward this information to me immediately."

Ecumenical Lags; Speedup Sought

VATICAN CITY (AP) — New pressures were on Tuesday to speed up the lagging pace of the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council.

A group of South American bishops began circulating a petition, calling for restraints on the tide of speeches that has swamped the proceedings.

At the same time, the 10-cardinal presidium and secretariat were seeking means of mitigating the problem, without curtailing the traditional right of free expression.

One reported prospect was a four-month winter recess, to allow the council fathers to examine the extensive proposals at home, so they would be more ready to act when they return in the spring.

Two AWOL Soldiers Escape From MPs

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP) — State Police reported that two AWOL soldiers escaped Tuesday from Military Police returning them to Fort Meade, Md.

The fugitives were identified as Albert A. Maples, 22, and George E. Gallagher, 26.

State Police said the two were members of a group of five AWOL soldiers picked up in the Pittsburgh area and enroute to Fort Meade in custody of MPs when the escape occurred near Chambersburg.

63 Miss USA Event Set For Huntington

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — The 1963 Miss USA beauty pageant will be held in Huntington Aug. 18-31. Pageant Director Keith Black said Tuesday that during the first five days of the pageant, the contestants would tour West Virginia. One stop will be at White Sulphur Springs where the Southern Governors Conference will be in session.

The winner of the contest represents this country in the Miss World pageant in London.

Virginian Heads Region Two of OEP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward A. McDermott, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, announced Tuesday appointment of Donald C. Whitmire of Clifton, Va., as director of the Region Two office with headquarters at Olney, Md.

Region Two of the OEP includes the District of Columbia, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio and Kentucky.

He was brought before Common Pleas Judge Vincent A. Carroll where Sumbler testified, "He's not the man. He helped me." Charges against Settle were dismissed by the judge.

But a mixup in the district attorney's office caused the charges against Settle to remain on the records. Police sought him 10 years, learned he was in the South, had him arrested.

Monday after a month in jail, Settle came before Common Pleas Judge Maurice W. Sporkin. Sumbler again testified, "He (Settle) was the guy who helped me."

Said the judge to Settle: "You shouldn't be on trial."

Said Settle: "This is what I get for being a good Samaritan."

Man Finds It Doesn't Pay To Be "Good Samaritan"

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — James Settle, 42, extended a helping hand to a stranger 10 years ago. The result:

He was jailed for about a month.

He was tried twice on charges of robbery and aggravated assault and battery, and freed both times.

The object of a 10-year police hunt, he was arrested in Winston-Salem, N.C., as a fugitive from justice.

He lost his job, because of the arrest, and had to borrow money to get home.

The background: Settle was walking along a North Philadelphia street on June 14, 1952, when speeding car dumped out David Sumbler, a victim of a beating and a robbery. Settle dragged Sumbler to the sidewalk.

Two other men rushed up, thought Settle was robbing Sumbler. Settle, frightened, started to run and was caught by a policeman.

Izvestia Calls On U.S. To End Cuba Blockade

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia Tuesday called on the United States to end the blockade of Cuba in line with the "agreement" under which Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev ordered the dismantling of Russian missile bases on the Caribbean island.

Radio Moscow — in a Persian language broadcast — revived the issue of the "liquidation of U.S. military bases in Turkey." It said the United States should remove its nuclear weapons from Turkey in return for the dismantling of the Soviet bases in Cuba.

Macmillan Declares U.S. Averted 'Super-Munich'

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said Tuesday the firmness of the United States and its Western allies in the Cuban crisis prevented "a kind of super-Munich."

Any wavering in Washington or other Western capitals, Macmillan told the House of Commons, "might easily have led to the collapse of the defense of the free world."

Macmillan raised the possibility that the Soviet Union's establishment of nuclear bases in Cuba and Red China's thrust into India might have sinister ties.

RANDALLSTOWN, Md. (AP) — Noah E. Kefauver, president of the Maryland Farm Bureau, called Tuesday for adoption of Question 7 on the ballot in the Nov. 6 general election.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An official of the Communications Commission, Kenneth A. Cox, says radio station CMQ in Havana apparently is violating international broadcasting agreements.

Cox said the station no longer uses its directional antenna and also has increased its power beyond the 50,000 watts power it used before the U.S. and Cuba broke off diplomatic relations in 1960.

A result, he said, is that CMQ is interfering with radio station WMAL in the Washington area during the night.

Commissioner Edward J. Klima, voting for the resolution, said if the tax was not increased on the gross receipts from slot machines, "the board would have to raise the real property taxes two cents."

The commissioners' vote on the measure was six for one against and one abstaining.

Board President Frank W. Wilde, voting against, said: "This is just another tool for the slot machine interests to plead their need."

He said he felt it was "a very unwise move for the board to take now. We know the governor has appointed a committee to investigate slot slots and may abolish them."

"This is an apparent move to make the county depend on these revenues to make it more difficult for the committee to abolish them."

ANNEAPOLIS (AP) — Del Charles R. Brockmeyer, D-Anne Arundel, proposed Tuesday creation of a state commission to look into the feasibility of having a state authority build and operate sewage treatment facilities.

Brockmeyer said many municipalities cannot afford adequate sewage treatment to prevent pollution of rivers and Chesapeake Bay tributaries.

"The pollution of our waterways by sewage is a statewide problem which, unless prevented by forceful and imaginative action on the state level, will have grave economic consequences," he said.

"Radar Trap" Costs Man $100

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — It cost Robert W. Balcom, 40, of Bethesda, $100 to operate an imitation radar trap on a Montgomery County highway. He said it was an effort to slow down speeding motorists.

Balcom was fined the $100 in Bethesda People's Court by Judge J. Walker Grahame, who said: "This was a dangerous thing and comes close to impersonating an officer. It could have caused an accident."

Officer J. G. Sardone said Balcom was in his car parked on the edge of 70-S in North Bethesda with a radar-like device on the roof.

Some drivers rounding a curve at high speed slammed on their brakes when they saw the device. Sardone said, adding that while questioned Balcom there was a near collision. Sardone said Balcom told him he was "just a practical joker pulling the public's leg."

Balcom apologized to the court and police for his experiment which he said he now realizes was dangerous.

Iota Epsilon, TPL Receives Golden Heart Award

Iota Epsilon Chapter, Tau Phi Lambda of the Supreme Forest Woodman Circle has been named winner of the "Golden Heart" award contest of West Virginia and Maryland.

Civic Club Purposes Is Stressed

Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, presented a citation to the Ambassador of France in a ceremony at the French Chancery Monday. She stressed that 76 years ago the people of France gave the people of the United States its most symbolic structure, the Statue of Liberty. That today when freedom is being threatened all over the world it is most fitting and proper that the long friendship between France and the United States be commemorated.

She pointed out that "there is symbolism in the design of the statue itself. The broken shackles of tyranny that are molded at the feet of Liberty have spoken for themselves to generations of people fleeing tyranny. The tablet in the statue's left hand, inscribed July 4, 1776, refers to the Declaration of Independence, telling all comers of the American ideal that all men are created equal. The torch, held high in her right hand, lights the way to freedom and liberty."

Mrs. Arnold explained that when she assumed the presidency of the federation, she chose as the purpose of her administration "to strengthen the Arm of Liberty" with the statue as the symbol.

Winner of the 1961-62 contest will be given the award certificate at the state convention which will be held in Cumberland, May 18, 19.

It will be entered in the national contest and the national winner at the 1963 convention in Chicago, will receive the "Golden Heart."

Iota Epsilon will hold initiation at the meeting tomorrow evening at the scout house. Mrs. Dorothy Silber will assume her duties as president and plans for the year are to be announced.

The Twiggtown Homemakers Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Ronald Baker, Williams Road, Friday at 7:30. Each is to bring an achievement for display. Interested in fire prevention, Mrs. Elizabeth Zembower attended the Governor's conference on fire prevention, for the fourth consecutive year. It was held in Annapolis last week, and was a two-day session, with the governor speaking on the opening day.

Small discussion groups featured the conference. Mrs. Mary Alice Lare of Hampstead, past president of the Ladies Auxiliary to the state firemen and fire prevention chairman, presided.

Earl Smith from Baltimore Safety Council, spoke on "Portable Heating Equipment in the Home." W. R. Saverin, state fire marshal from Dover, Del., discussed the danger of fire works and the laws concerning them and their enforcement.

Mrs. Jane D. Ellen, executive director of the Maryland Society for Prevention of Blindness, from Baltimore, spoke on safety measures.

"Psychology of the Child Fire Setter" was the topic of a talk by Dr. Annie Laurie McElhenie, associate professor of the University of Maryland.

For the first time, Gamma Psi offered membership to first semester freshmen. These pledges met with the sorority as a group and talked with the officers individually.

She also announced that the province convention would be held in April in Atlantic City.

As money making projects the girls are selling donuts in the dormitories on Saturday mornings.

They also will be selling pennants and mugs with the name of the college on them.

A social hour followed the meetings and refreshments were served by Mrs. Annie Ferguson and Mrs. Fannie Kemp.

The Halloween motif was carried out in the decorations.

County Accepts Loader Bid

The bid of $24,500 of the McClung-Logan Equipment Company of Baltimore to furnish two front load pay loaders equipped with snow plows was accepted yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The action came after the board was given a tabulation of the five bids received last Friday from Harry T. Skelly, roads supervisor, and Melvin Robinette, master mechanic for the department.

Both men stated that the specifications on the machine were not met by The John C. Lewis Equipment Company of Baltimore, which bid $21,860, nor the Rish Equipment Company, which bid $23,627. McClung-Logan was the lowest bidder of firms which met the specifications.

The highest bidders were Lutherville (Md.) Equipment Company at $13,314.12 for each pay loader and $28,780 by the Beckwith Machinery Company of Pittsburgh.

Commissioners John J. Rowan and John Tucker Mason voted to accept the McClung-Logan bid while Commissioner Louis V. Shinnaman said he would not vote to either reject or accept the bid.

The U. S. government will lend approximately 220,000 college students $110 million this year. A year ago the loans totalled $94 million to 185,000 students under the National Defense Education Act.

Virginian Dies
In Crash Near
Mathias, W. Va.

A pipeline worker was killed in a one-car accident east of Mathias, Hardy County, and his body was not discovered in the wreckage for 11 hours Sunday.

The victim, according to West Virginia State Trooper John Leeson, was Othar Sherman, 39, who resided at RD, Bergton, Va.

The officer said Sherman left his home at 3:30 a.m. Sunday enroute to New York where he was employed on a pipeline project.

As he was driving on the Hunker Gap Road near Mathias, the auto ran off the road, went into a deep gully and came to rest by a culvert.

A boy living nearby, Carlton Keppler, traveling on a farm tractor came upon the wreckage and discovered Sherman dead, still sitting at the steering wheel.

Death was attributed to a crushed chest and broken neck, Trooper Leeson said.

County Seeking Updated
Data On Civil Defense

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday instructed James G. Stevenson, board clerk, to write Charles G. Smith, director of Civil Defense, to send an updated report on operation of the county government in case of a nuclear attack.

The action came at the suggestion of Commissioner Louis V. Shinnamont. The original report to the county board was received in 1959 when William G. Barger was director of Civil Defense and since that time certain sections have been outdated, according to Leslie J. Clark, attorney to the commissioners.

A letter was received from Smith yesterday concerning the shelter survey which has been completed by Baker, Wibberly and Associates of Hagerstown for the Army Corps of Engineers.

Smith said 170 buildings were surveyed. In addition, various coal mines, caves and tunnels were also checked to bring the total possible shelter areas to 200 facilities, Smith stated.

Smith said that five property owners refused to have the survey done on their property, 76 others did not validate the shelter license which was available for their properties.

All shelter areas which have been designated as suitable and licenses validated will be marked and 14 days supply of food and other supplies will be stocked within the next 60 days, Smith pointed out.

The local Extension Service office has received information on the effect of fallout from any nuclear attack on croplands. The information listed as unlikely that there would be any severe fallout with the heaviest intensity in relatively small, scattered areas.

Possibly these lands could remain unused until natural decay had reduced radioactivity to tolerable levels. In heavy fallout areas, temporary land use would be denied until strontium 90 analysis of the soil could be made. This would be six months to a year after the fallout had settled.

Strontium uptake in the soil could be reduced by growing crops with low strontium-calcium concentrations. Potatoes, corn, sugar, and oil crops could be grown as they meet these requirements. Liming of soil would reduce strontium 90 uptake by plants as much as 50 per cent.

Ruling Explained On Job Changes

The Civil Service Commission of Cumberland request that its Table of Organization be followed to insure that the present job classification plan can move along as intended.

The Mayor and Council Monday approved the commission request.

While there is no evidence that it has been done, the classification plan could be used to obtain small pay increases for certain employees by changing classification.

The commission feels that before such changes are made permanent, it should have the right to approve them. Such changes also should be justified, it was pointed out.

Previous to this time, a department merely notified the Civil Service Commission that a change had been made from one post to another with a small increase in pay and these were approved.

Car Accidents Are Cited In Police Report

Two persons were killed and 52 others injured in highway accidents in Allegany and Garrett counties during the month of September.

Lt. William E. O'Hara, commander of the LaVale State Police barracks, said one person was killed in Allegany County and one in Garrett. Forty-five sustained injuries in this county and seven in nearby Garrett.

The counties, which are patrolled by troopers working out of the LaVale barracks, registered a total of 105 highway mishaps during the month. Eighty-five were investigated in Allegany and 20 in Garrett.

Fifty-four property damage accidents were also investigated in Allegany County and 14 in Garrett.

Twenty-three of Allegany's crashes occurred on U. S. Route 40, mostly in LaVale, while 15 were reported on U. S. Route 220; seven on State Route 51; four on State Route 135; 32 on unnumbered routes and four pedestrian mishaps were reported.

The causes listed for the accidents included speeding, failing to give right of way, following too close, driving under the influence, improper turn and failing to keep right of the center.

Garrison County recorded three accidents on U. S. Route 40, three on U. S. Route 219, two on State Route 39, two on Route 495, seven on unnumbered routes and three pedestrian mishaps.

The causes listed for the accidents included reckless driving, driving under the influence, failing to keep right of the center, and improper turning.

Lt. O'Hara also noted that during the month of September the State of Maryland experienced a total of 57 traffic deaths, bringing the figure of persons killed in auto accidents for the nine-month period to 420. This represents an increase of 32 per cent compared with last year's figure for the same period.

The month of September also saw 2,876 persons injured in traffic accidents, an average of 96 personal injuries each day. One person was injured every 15 minutes.

Lt. O'Hara said Maryland experienced 5,210 traffic accidents during the month, and of these 51 were fatal; 1,736 non-fatal, and 3,423 resulted in property damage only.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—cities, many of which still surround Italy's west coast and even the streets of Tarquinia, Perugia and Chiusi, were built in modern shape like Tarquinia's 800 inhabitants still benefit from the ancient city and even the water-supply system of the ancient Etruscans.

The site chosen by the two scholars: With the aid of a $50,000 fund raisers is Vetulonia, some 100 miles northwest of Rome. Ventulonia was a thriving seaside center of 100,000 inhabitants between the 7th and 5th centuries B.C. Today it is some six miles in diameter.

Land Case Settled Out Of Court

A condemnation suit brought by the State Roads Commission in connection with land needed for highway improvements in the Westernport area has been settled out of court.

The two scholars will try to find an answer to this question: How could the Etruscans feed a water supply to their cities using springs that in most cases were at a lower level? All Etruscan cities, many of which still surround Italy's west coast and even the streets of Tarquinia, Perugia and Chiusi, were built in modern shape like Tarquinia's 800 inhabitants still benefit from the ancient city and even the water-supply system of the ancient Etruscans.

The problem facing the two scholars: To bring water on top of a mountain there are two known ways—rain falling from the sky forms a pool inside the mountain or a spring in a taller mountain is funnelled by aqueduct to its destination.

Vetulonia has no taller mountains around it. It does not rain in the region for months, yet the town's inhabitants never fail to find water in their ancient wells. How could the city's ancient inhabitants achieve such a prodigious piece of hydraulic engineering, still operating some 3,000 years after it was first constructed?

The case, brought by the SRC against Percy Linkswiler and co-defendants, had been scheduled for a hearing yesterday in Circuit Court.

Archaeological campaigns in reading room, the law librarian's past did not provide the answer. What the scholars discovered also a new floor.

Retired Teachers Aided By County

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners today voted to pay 14 retired school teachers sums not to exceed $50 per month in order to bring their pensions up to a minimum of $175 per month.

The action was taken after a letter from Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, was read outlining the status of the teachers in regard to the pensions each receives. The amounts for individual teachers ranges from a low of $4.93 to $50.

The county commissioners commented that the teachers in question should receive the $175 monthly pension as they did not qualify under certain other pension benefits to other teachers.

(AND BE REASONABLY SURE OF GETTING IT)

If you ever hope to be wealthy or even comfortably fixed, the logical thing to do is to learn how to borrow money. And where. Like many other important things, learning about money takes some practice, some skill—and, often, some help. Here are five easy rules that will help you borrow wisely.

First, pick a Full Service commercial bank (like us) that's handy to your home or work. (A Full Service commercial bank is really a financial department store which makes all kinds of loans at rates generally lower than you'd get anywhere else.)

Second, do all your major banking business with that Full Service Bank. (This includes both your checking account and your savings account. The more business the better.)

Third, get personally acquainted with a bank officer and fill out a Personal Financial Statement. One of ours will be glad to help you do this.

Fourth, keep your savings account active and growing with regular deposits and try to maintain a reasonable balance in your checking account.

Last, make a few worthwhile small loans and pay them back on schedule. (This does wonders for your credit reputation.)

Get to know your banker
before you need him

Almost before you realize it, you'll have earned yourself a financial partner. Now, when you're ready to go into business for yourself, send the kids to college, or whatever, we'll be able to help you, both with sound financial advice and low cost loans.

Sound logical? Why not get started with our Full Service commercial bank now?

izated that he could not win nine tricks until he had driven out the ace of hearts. In an effort to prevent his opponents from establishing enough tricks in the spade suit to set the contract, South followed with the deuce of spades from his hand to East's return, hoping that the dummy's nine would force a high honor from West.

West was obliged to win the trick with the king of spades, and his return forced out partner's ace. Declarer lost in all, two spades, one heart, and one diamond.

East could have defeated the contract had he shifted to the ten of spades at trick two.

South must play the jack from his hand in order to force out West's king. When a spade is returned by the latter, East can cover the seven in dummy with the eight from his hand driving out South's queen.

When East regains the lead with the ace of hearts, his ace of spades will pick up the dummy's nine, and the six is now established to win the setting trick.

The principle to guide East in the selection of a card to lead is this: When the defender holds a tenace over one of dummy's cards, in addition to a higher card, he should lead as the dummy's surrounded card is actually in his own hand. In other words, East should lead as he held 10 [9] 8 of spades.

The bidding: East South West North

Opening lead: Five of ♦
East in today's hand missed an opportunity to score on a sound the little known defensive play. It all revolved around the proper card to select in attacking dummy's weakness, spades.

The bidding was completely routine and West opened the five of diamonds against the three no trump contract. Declarer played low from the dummy and East won the trick with the king.

It appeared that the only hope to develop tricks for the defenders was in the spade suit, so without further ado, East returned his fourth best spade, the six. Declarer real-

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last night while walking down the street my wife and I saw a group of teenagers appear out of nowhere and suddenly attack another youth. They beat and kicked him unmercifully. This was done without provocation as nearly as we could determine.

I wanted to go to the assistance of the victim but my wife hung on to my arms and pleaded with me to stay out of it. In a few minutes the police arrived. Now I'm not certain I did the right thing. Perhaps I should have broken away from my wife and at least attempted to help the boy.

My wife insists I should not have become involved. She claims a man's first duty is to his wife and family. If I had become seriously injured or crippled in that fight, she pointed out, it would have produced real problems for her and the children.

We both agree there is a question of morality involved. We would like your opinion.—DOBBS FERRY, N.Y.

DEAR DOBBS FERRY: Since Cain slew Abel man has been faced with this ethical dilemma. It boils down to the simple proposition: Should I volunteer to help my brother at the risk of endangering myself? I say yes. This is the fundamental concept of brotherly love. Man cannot safely ignore the indignities and injustices about him for the sake of saving his own skin.

Every day each of us faces risks involved in the daily business of living. Even the lowly turtle must stick out his neck if he is to make progress.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My fiance is wonderful but he has a bad habit and I don't know how to cure him. He borrows $10s and $20s and forgets to pay me back. I'm a nut when it comes to details and I keep track of everything. He owes me $140.

It's not the money I care about, Ann, it's the idea that he doesn't see anything wrong in forgetting to pay his debts. I'm sure if he does this with me he must do it with others. This is bad for a person's credit and it also hurts his reputation. He makes good money but he doesn't know where it goes. How can I help? — MOLLIE

DEAR MOLLIE: If you don't cure him before marriage the problem will be an active volcano after marriage — erupting periodically and causing serious trouble.

Ask your fiance to give you his check and suggest he live on an allowance. (When money disappears into thin air it means there is no budgeting and borrowing is inevitable.)

Next ask for a list of his debts and start to pay them. You sound like the best thing that ever happened to him. I hope he appreciates you, Doll.

DEAR ANN: I'm an adult who should know the answer to this simple question. (It's so simple I'm ashamed to ask anyone for fear they will think I have flipped.)

Is there a rule of etiquette regarding who speaks first — the man or the woman? A friend of mine insists that the man should speak first. She says this rule goes back to Mid-Victorian days when women were supposed to be shy and retiring.

Another friend says the woman speaks first because she should have the prerogative to ignore a man if she doesn't want to recognize him. What about this? — JUANITA

DEAR JUANITA: According to The Book, the woman should speak first, but this is one of those fine points which means little. When friends meet, the one who recognizes the other first usually speaks first — and this is as it should be.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request

Md. Democrat Slate Backed By Mahoney

BALTIMORE (AP) — George P. Mahoney, unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the May primary, came out Tuesday night for the entire statewide Democratic ticket headed by Gov. J. Millard Tawes.

Mahoney had indicated earlier that he would make a television appearance before the Nov. 6 general election to express his views. But in a statement Tuesday night, the Baltimore County contractor said two stations had refused to sell him time and the third was hesitant.

In a statement issued Tuesday night, Mahoney said that "In a time of crisis, experienced leadership on all levels of government—state and local as well as national—it is the one overriding necessity if our people are to receive the informed guidance and direction which they require and deserve. I therefore consider it my duty to reaffirm my wholehearted dedication to the Democratic Party as I did at the (nominating) convention last June—and to endorse without reservation the entire Democratic ticket in this election, including Gov. Tawes," Mahoney said.

Bitter Rivals

Mahoney and Tawes had been bitter rivals in the primary campaign and their charges and counter-charges made it one of the most heated in Maryland history. It was Mahoney's sixth unsuccessful attempt to gain public office—three of them efforts to gain the governorship. The other three were attempts for the U.S. Senate.

"It is true that Governor Tawes and I have disagreed strongly over certain issues of importance to the State of Maryland. I had planned to go on television to restate my conviction that there were some major projects in my primary campaign which I am convinced are worthwhile and constructive and of great benefit to the people of Maryland. Two of the stations informed me that they cannot sell me time before the election. Station policy dictates that only candidates running for public office may purchase T.V. time during this campaign. The third station indicated they were reluctant to sell me time for the same reason," Mahoney said.

Hopes For Discussion

"After the election I hope to discuss with Governor Tawes the projects and measures which I advocated during the primary and in which I still strongly believe. It is my view, however, that the present crisis transcends all differences and makes imperative a new unity of all Marylanders behind the experienced administration. Maryland's role in the national defense effort has assumed increasing significance in the present crisis. Important military installations and defense industries are located across the length and breadth of the state; and in the event of a further worsening of the international situation their importance will be magnified a thousand-fold. The new importance of our civil defense and other emergency preparations also, needs no elaboration here," Mahoney said.

He said Tawes was best qualified to coordinate Maryland's role in the national effort.

"For these reasons, then, I give to the Democratic ticket in this election my unequivocal support. I urge all my fellow Democrats and all Marylanders to unite behind the candidates who possess the knowledge and experience which can help us through this most grave emergency," Mahoney said.

Second, the present provision that the section does not apply in Montgomery County if the property to be taken includes buildings or improvements, would be changed to say it does not apply if the property includes a building or buildings.

Well Permit Is Requested

Another step is in the making to assure an adequate water supply for the Dan's Mountain Recreation Area near Lonaconing.

The State Department of Forests and Parks has applied to the Department of Geology, Mines and Natural Resources for a permit to use a minimum of 2,000 gallons and a maximum of 3,000 gallons of water daily nine months of the year on the Dan's Mountain Recreation Area.

This well has a diameter of six inches and a depth of about 300 feet.

A public hearing on the application will be held at the Department of Geology, Mines and Natural Resources, Room 102, Latrobe Hall, the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, at 11 a.m. Tuesday, November 27.

Objections to the granting of the permit may be presented orally or in writing.

During a visit here last week, Joseph F. Taylor, director of the State Department of Forests and Parks, said the water supply and sewage disposal problems at the Dan's Mountain area are in the hands of an engineer for the State Department of Public Improvement.

George R. Hughes Jr. For State Senator

Of all the offices to be filled by the voters of Allegany County in next Tuesday's election, probably that of state senator has been the subject of most interest to most people. The candidates are two vigorous young attorneys, each of whom has served one term in the House of Delegates. We believe that both George R. Hughes Jr. and William Walsh are well qualified to represent Allegany County in the Senate.

Mr. Hughes in particular has distinguished himself as a deserving candidate. He was elected to the House in 1954. After serving in his first session in 1955 he was elected minority leader of the House of Delegates in 1956, although he was then only 30 years old. He held this important position for three years, serving also on the Legislative Council and on the Ways and Means, Rules and Judiciary committees, three of the most important committees of the House.

While in the General Assembly, he sponsored or co-sponsored a great variety of statewide and local legislation, including expansion of the roads program, highway safety legislation, increases in teachers' salaries and retirement benefits, a statewide college scholarship fund, expansion of Frostburg State Teachers College and of public schools in the county, salary increases and a 40-hour week for state employees, a merit system for county employees, construction of the new National Guard Armory here, and an act enabling Cumberland to take part in the Federal Urban Renewal Program. He was a busier legislator than most. In the short 30-day session of 1958, for example, he was sponsor or co-sponsor of nearly 40 of the 180 bills that were introduced.

These are only a few of the many accomplishments of Mr. Hughes, who has been active as well in various phases of community life. Ever since his graduation from the University of Maryland School of Law in 1952 after three years of World War II service in the Navy, he has been active in Republican politics in Allegany County. In 1958 he served on the platform committee for the state Republican convention in Baltimore.

It is Mr. Hughes' outstanding record that prompts this newspaper to endorse his candidacy and to urge its readers to vote for him next Tuesday.

• These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Cause And Effect

Leonardo Da Vinci once wrote: "There is no result in nature without a cause; understand the cause and you will have no need of the experience."

The same is true in politics. One day, for instance, the Stock Market is in the doldrums. The next it is full of fire and enthusiasm. Everybody is buying. The ticker-tape falls behind. There is a shout of joy. The inmates of the asylum have taken control.

However, there was no change in the news to warrant the excitement. If the Stock Market is a barometer of our condition, the best that could be said was that the condition had not changed. There was no cause to justify the effect. What had happened was that Nikita Khrushchev had sent a message to Bertrand Russell, the British mathematician and philosopher, that he wanted to negotiate. Surely if he likes to negotiate, it is not with ancient Bertrand Russell, who once having led scholars in Materia Mathematica, is now leading a mob in abstract and unrealistic pacifism.

Khrushchev chose Russell as a vehicle for a statement because he could also pose as a pacifist while making war, just as the philosopher, Mao Tze-tung, poses as a pacifist while invading India; just as Nehru posed as a lover of peace while seizing Goa. It is not a new fashion for statesmen to lie; it is something new when they give the appearance of believing their own lies. They used to wink at their ingenuities.

It is quite possible that both the Cuban and the Berlin situations will end in a negotiated peace, because neither the United States nor Soviet Russia desires a nuclear war. But if there is to be a negotiated peace, Khrushchev's salami-cutting practices will have to stop. If Khrushchev cannot control Mao Tze-tung, someone will have to be swing his enormous armies through Southeast Asia and clip off chunks of land wherever he can. Tibet, Laos, North Vietnam (like North Korea) were big chunks to swallow.

The Cuban situation has been brewing a long time. When the Mexican labor leader, Lombardo Toledano, way back in the early 30's, started to develop a Communist effort in the Latin American countries, it was the beginning of our present strife. When the Spanish Civil War took place (1936-39), many Americans and Latin Americans went to Spain to fight in that revolution which was the second effort of international Communism to strike sharply outside of Russia. It then was possible to identify the young leaders being developed to lead Communism in each country. The principal Latin American Communist leaders were in the Spanish Civil War, just as the United States Communist leaders were in the Spanish Civil War as well as in the attempted Communist take-over in China in 1925.

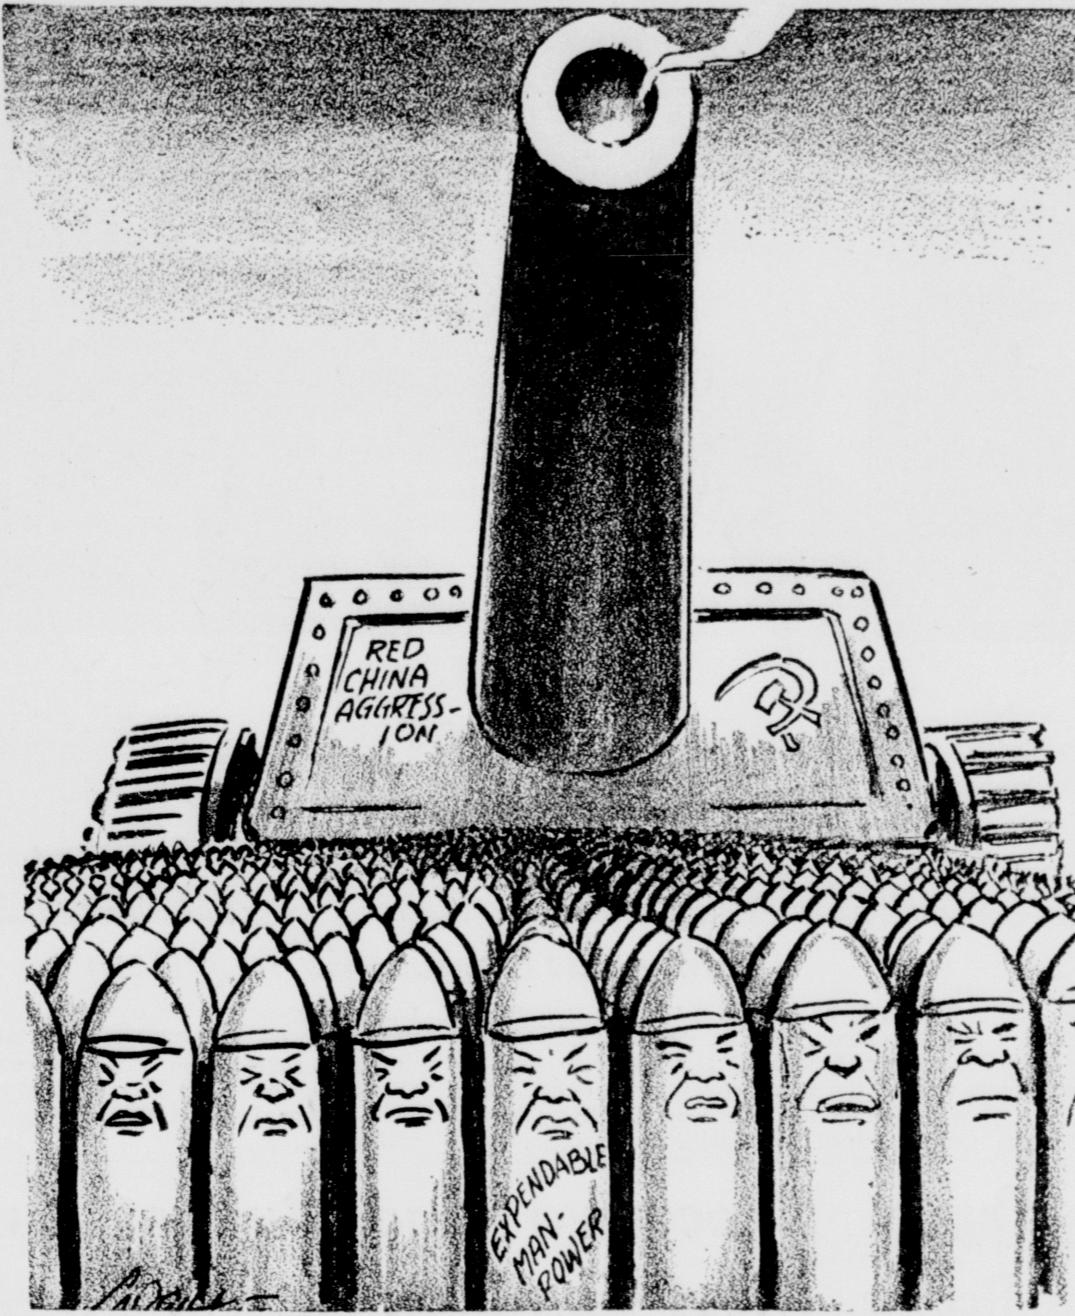

Competent intelligence would have watched those men in Latin America in our own interests. But we were too doctrinaire to guard against deception and even destruction. The Communists had three decades to build their forces, particularly, among intellectuals, while we did nothing that amounted to anything to counteract their work against us. From the very beginning of their work, it was aimed at breaking Latin America away from the United States.

They believed that we were rich, soft, weak, fat and a pushover. And truth to tell, we acted that way. We showed no strength. We cringed before the Organization of American States and after the Bay of Pigs incident, the Communists were sure that they had us. As long as we were weak, they progressed in their efforts.

Then came the blockade and the South American statesmen stood by us solidly. We had miscalculated. We failed to recognize that the world respects force.

U. S. Fails To Get Truth To Soviet People

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Is everything being done that can be done to prevent a third world war? As of today, a negative answer must be given. For there is a glaring deficiency—a failure of the voice of truth to reach the two hundred million people of the Soviet Union who alone can determine whether their autocratic government shall stay in power.

Sabers can be readily rattled by both sides. American warships can be ordered to blockade Soviet shipments of arms to Cuba. Diplomatic notes with cryptic or subtle phrases of deception can be issued from Moscow. But the Soviet people have not been getting and are not now getting the truth.

It is not a lack of means. The United States government is spending billions to try to reach the moon, but very little is being spent to win the help of the Soviet people in restraining the government in Moscow from plunging the world into a nuclear war.

The United States, to be sure, is equipped with the latest mechanical devices which can broadcast messages of great length into all the countries of the world in various languages.

Then what's lacking? It is a policy of positiveness and frankness that would, day after day, tell the peoples of the Communist-bloc countries how they can liberate themselves from the yoke of one-man rule and one-party government which today constitutes the biggest menace to world peace.

But, it will be asked, doesn't the United States government issue "propaganda" through the Voice of America and other agencies of international publicity? The answer is that the messages sent out daily are so restrained in tone as to give the impression of a fear to speak out forthrightly and explicitly to the people of the Soviet Union. The broadcasts are confined largely to reading over the air condensations of news dispatches and extracts from speeches and official statements. The official pronouncements, moreover, are couched in polite phrases and make no direct appeal.

The White House and State Department under this and preceding administrations have ordered a policy of forbearance. Occasionally, there is emphasis and bluntness. Every now and then there is a Presidential statement broadcast which contains resolute words. But there's no exhortation—no appeal to the Soviet people themselves. The messages do not convey to the people behind the Iron Curtain the basic fact that peace cannot be assured in the world either for them or for any other nation until the Communist tyranny and dictatorship is removed and peoples are free to conduct their own elections and choose their own rulers—as in a republic.

The Soviet government ironically calls its constituent provinces "republics" and misuses the word "democracy" again and again, but the rest of the world makes relatively little effort to overcome the effects of such deceptive tactics. Free governments do not speak out on it, except in a most abstract way.

The Soviet people have been told repeatedly by a controlled press, radio and TV that the United States and its western allies are indeed "aggressors." The charge has been reiterated constantly that America plans the destruction of the people of the Soviet Union by nuclear bombs direct from missile bases in Europe. Even inside this country there are many uninformed persons who don't see the difference between Western bases erected in Turkey for defensive and deterrent purposes and missile bases built by Khrushchev in Cuba for what he chooses to call "defensive" purposes.

Many citizens in this country do not know why the Western missile bases were originally set up in Turkey, nor do they know of the Soviet threats of missile attack that preceded this countermove by the West. Sure, it was printed in the newspapers at the time it happened in 1958 and was announced to the world. It wasn't done secretly. But there's been little or no mention of it since then nor any over-all broadcast to the Soviet people repeated day in and day out to characterize the offensive nature of the Kremlin's tactics throughout Europe, Asia, and Latin America, as well as Africa. This has made defensive measures necessary and has built up the armament costs of every one of the free nations.

Birch-Front "Americanism"

Rafferty spoke before the "Doctors for Americanism" in Pasadena along with Rep. John Rousselot (R-Calif.), a member of the John Birch Society, along with such honor guests as Bill Richardson, a Birchite candidate for Congress, and Paul Drake, publisher of the Birch-front Freedom Press.

On Oct. 6 he spoke at "Yankee Doodle Days" in Montrose with Edgar Heistand, a John Birch congressman; also addressed the

California Election Of Schools

Head Is Of National Importance

By Drew Pearson

fey's Reader into the school system.

Right-Wing Spellbinding

Here is how Rafferty has been spellbinding the voters of California:

"There are other enemies of education," he said in his keynote speech, now circulated by right-wing organizations all over the state. "There are the ax-grinders and the profit-minded and the moss-backs. There are the demagogues and the hard-heeled. Their eyes bulge out at us from the fun-house mirrors. The contorted veins look like Medusa's snakes from the foreheads wavering in the curving glass. We turn away and go out into the cool of the evening appalled at the contortions of the massed reflections."

Reason for the battle at this time is the resignation of Dr. Roy E. Simpson as superintendent of schools and the election of his successor. One of the following two candidates is to be picked in a statewide election:

Dr. Ralph Richardson, a UCLA professor of English and president of the Los Angeles School board which educates one-fifth of California's youngsters. Richardson is a moderate reformer with some ideas on solving the problem of youngsters who drop out of school and who wants to stick to basic education.

Dr. Max Rafferty, superintendent of the La Canada School district, affable, spellbinding darling of the right wing who, when he isn't busy making political speeches, wants to reintroduce McGuff-

Minute Women of Pasadena and any number of other right-wing extremists.

One of his most significant speeches was before the Republican Assembly on Aug. 6 when he said: "If I do not win you are not going to find Republicans in California in a few years."

Yet Rafferty is running as a nonpartisan.

That's the way the race for control of the schools lines up in what will soon be the most populous state in the Union. It will be just about as interesting to watch as the race for governor of California.

Reverse Payoff

There's an interesting aftermath to the gambling debt which Dana Smith, Richard Nixon's $18,000 fund collector, incurred at the Sans Souci Night Club in Havana.

When Smith lost $4,200 he paid his debt with a check dated April 4, 1952 on the First Trust and Savings Bank of Pasadena but when he got back to Miami next day he stopped payment on the check. I have a photostat of the check with "payment stopped" stamped on it.

Thereafter Norman Rothman, owner of Sans Souci, sued Smith for giving him a bad check and the suit came to a head in California in September 1952 when Nixon was running for Vice President. It was then that Nixon wrote to the American Embassy asking its good offices in helping Smith regarding his gambling debt. The American Embassy, as a result, turned handsprings for Smith when it had other pressing problems such as the difficult political situation to worry about.

But here is the payoff. Later, Norman Rothman was indicted, prosecuted and convicted by the Justice Department for running arms into Cuba. At that time, 1958-59, all sorts of arms were being run into Cuba to aid the Castro forces, then in the hills fighting against President Batista. Castro's cause was being championed by the New York Times, Gov. Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico, President Pepi Figueras of Costa Rica, and others. Federal authorities in Florida generally looked the other way when it came to armsrunning. In fact, there have been no stiff sentences imposed for this old-fashioned American custom of stirring up revolution.

Rothman, however, the man who brought suit against Nixon's friend in September 1952, just as Nixon was running for Vice President, got five years in the federal penitentiary.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

They demanded the right to support Frontier for not doing its job. They won. Maytag lost. So he sold the airline for $3,000,000 and looked around for another airline.

National was the last of the one-man operations. The man was Ted Baker and he had nourished it out of the original Florida nest to a position where it flew from Boston to Havana, from Miami to New Orleans, Las Vegas, Los Angeles and San Francisco. Baker is a bluff, hearty martinet of 61. He ran National like a toy electric train. Last year, owing to the purchase of new jets, Baker's baby lost about $7,000,000.

In April, Maytag's auditor was permitted to go through the offices, the files, the rolling stock, the books. On April 26, the kid bought Baker's 14% of the stock. It was selling at 17½ points. Bud paid 25¾ per share. He got 250,000 shares for $2,125,000 in the market. He also got control of a giant which was losing money.

These items are of momentary item to Maytag. He sat talking about them in a low grail. He has an inordinate confidence that, given the proper instrument, he can make it show a profit. "I've got it set up now," he said, "so that if I drop dead tomorrow National will prosper."

Step one was to put his own men on the board and in key executive positions. Step two was to get rid of all propeller aircraft. By the first of the year, Maytag expects to be running nothing but pure jets and prop-jets. The jets can carry many more passengers, while costing only 18 per cent more in operating costs.

The break-even point on passengers used to be 59% of all seats. Maytag has it down to 44 percent now, and wants to get it to 39%. He also refinanced all of National's $51,000,000 debt to a lower interest rate. Two months after he sat in the driver's seat, Maytag announced that National would show a profit of $4,250,000 for the year.

It is difficult to believe that a single-purpose man such as Maytag has a private life. He has. At 21, he married a campus queen. The social life pained him. They were divorced. He married a divorcee, Marquita Moseley. In all, there are nine children. It is arithmetical that Maytag gets home once in a while.

I was taking notes, I stood, he shook hands. "Remember," he said, "I'm not interested in being an airline president. I'm interested in making money."

Watch him fly . . .

No Definite Proof Cancer Caused By Virus

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The reports that cancer is caused by viruses add another worry to that segment of our population that is easily frightened. As an illustration of this point, we cite a letter from Mrs. M.:

Former President Truman dearly loves to be asked how he became a musician. This always gives him the opportunity to answer. "The Missouri River overflowed its banks when I was a lad. My mother and father floated downstream atop a dining room table—and I accompanied them on the piano."

Mobile Mill Serves Farms In Hardy Co.

A new business to serve the farmers in the area was established by Ted and Lloyd Saville to provide custom milling for Southern States patrons with the T. & L. Mobile Milling Co.

The new diesel operated unit will be taken to the farms and will use the farmers own grains or hay feeds to mix with supplemental grains and concentrates on the spot.

The new custom milling service on the farms can provide heated molasses to mix in any kind of weather. The unit can blow feed for 80 feet or can measure the mixed into bags. A special scavenger attachment eliminates dust usually associated with grinding operations. The dust is returned to the mix after being filtered. A powerful magnet removes all ferrous metals from grains or hay.

The Saville brothers, operators of the new mobil unit, said the equipment is designed to mix baled hay into the grains and concentrates, without cutting the binder twine or wire from the bales.

Man Being Held On Entry Charge

He is Edwin McDonald, according to Trooper John Leeson. He is being held in the Hampshire County Jail at Romney.

The $90 was in a cigar box under the counter.

Arrested at a nearby restaurant yesterday, McDonald had $88 on him. He is also charged with larceny.

Major Leagues Draw Up Million Dollar Program To "Save Minors"

Applies To 100 Teams In Three Classifications

Sound Operational Footing Objective, Plan Is Explained

By NORMAN MILLER
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Baseball's "save the minors" program has been drawn up and undoubtedly will be passed at the annual winter meetings of the major and minor leagues, it was announced Tuesday by Charles Segar, secretary for baseball.

A committee which has been working on the plan for more than a year and one-half under the leadership of President John Galbreath of the Pittsburgh Pirates has unanimously recommended its approval at the meetings starting at Rochester, N.Y., Nov. 26.

Under this program, the major leagues committed themselves last May to underwrite the operation of not less than 100 minor league teams in 1963.

These commitments entail either outright ownership or working agreements. And they would replace the $650,000-plus annual "dole" by which the majors have supported the minors in recent years.

The new program, according to Segar, was expected to cost the major leagues more than $1-million a year.

Seek Sound Footing

Galbreath has said major league magnates would be willing to spend this amount in order to put the minors on a sound operational footing, instead of the catch-as-catch-can arrangements that have been in effect for years.

"Under the new program, minor league owners would not have to come to the winter meetings with hat in hand forlornly seeking an affiliation with a major league club," Segar pointed out. "This new agreement would guarantee that support to the minors."

The minor league classifications would be scrapped from top to bottom and the leagues would be divided into only three classifications — Triple-A, Double-A and A. The present Double-A and A leagues would be combined into a new Double-A classification and all of the present leagues from A through D would be grouped in a new A class.

Basic Of New Plan

The basis of the new plan would be the "player development contract" under which a major league team would agree to provide a roster of players for a minor league club. The major league club would supply the entire roster or the minor league team could elect to provide a certain number of players itself. The minor leaguers could be optioned, consigned outright, or they could be newly-signed free agents.

Here are certain other aspects of the program:

The major league club would reimburse the minor league club for some or all of the salaries paid to those players, to be known as "selectable players," provided by the sponsoring team and to the club's manager and coaches and also would pay for the spring training of those selectable players and for certain of their travel expenses.

In return for this, the minor league club would give the major league club the right to select the players up to Dec. 15 and to bounds. Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles is third in scoring with 191 and optional recall of selectable points and has matched Bellamy players. The only exception in caroms would be that the players could not be assigned outright to another club during the minor league club's season without its consent.

Prices Of Players

Further, contracts of players acquired by the minor league team on its own initiative would be offered to the major league club at fixed prices before assignment to any other club. Class Triple-A players would sell for $20,000 each; class Double-A for $10,000 and A for $5,000.

According to present plans, the 100 sponsored teams would be divided as follows: 20 at the Triple-A level; 20 at Double-A and 60 at A.

Shoemaker Scores Aqueduct Triple

NEW YORK (UPI) — Willie Shoemaker, seeking to clinch his sixth national jockey championship, rode three winners at Aqueduct Tuesday, including Mah Moola in the $10,000 Ladana handicap.

The popular "Shoe" previously had scored with Constantia Star ($6,00) in the fourth and Creermen ($2,50) in the fifth.

Mah Moola overtook the tiring Cyclopavia in the stretch to score by a half-length over My Portrait and Nashua's Pride rallied late to save the show position by a neck over Cyclopavia.

Shoemaker rode Mah Moola over six furlongs in 1:10 flat and Richard had five goals and five assists while Delvecchio and Pennington each had three goals and seven assists.

the GREAT PLAY in College Football

ON THE night of Oct. 12, 1957, Duke and Rice were ready to stage the first football meeting in the history of those two institutions at Houston, Tex.

Chef Bill Murray of the Blue Devils had installed a new play in his famed drive series. It was a cross-buck and the man he wanted to run it was fleet Wray Carlton, now playing for Buffalo.

Duke quarterback Bob Brodhead did not wait long to spring it. Rice kicked off to Brodhead and he returned to the Duke 32.

On the first play from scrimmage Brodhead called the new play and it worked perfectly. Carlton slipped up the middle, the defense was surprised and Carlton broke into the clear and went 68 yards for a touchdown. Carlton then added the extra point.

That was all of the Duke scoring for the night and the seven points held up and Duke came away with a 7-6 victory.

The great play by Carlton was enough.

FOOTBALL . . . Thoughts and Fancies

ISN'T IT about time Woody Hayes came on the field these cold Saturday afternoons with more than just that baseball cap and short-sleeved shirt? At the Wisconsin game, with the fans in the stands mighty cold, there was Woody without a coat while Milt Bruhn, across the way, wore an overcoat.

THE SYSTEM of substituting different units, with the players lining up to hand in their names, is slowing up the game, too. What the official needs is a secretary.

ANOTHER boring part of football today is sending in plays with alternating players. It's getting so now that players are running in at the last second, rushing into huddles and holding up the play. An official will look at his watch but seldom calls a penalty for delay of game.

HELPFUL for spectators would be to have visiting football teams garbed in all white with team colors on their numbers.

FOOTBALL INJURIES and an increasing number of deaths have caused concern in many quarters and the head guard and face masks play a part. Tackling around the head and grabbing that mask should be severely penalized. Blocking with the head, which has caused many head and neck injuries, should be stopped.

Beau Purple's Owner Accepts Invitation To International

Horse Also May Run In Saturday Test At Garden State

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Owner John J. Dreyfus Jr. accepted an invitation Tuesday to run Beau Purple twice before this year, but the Man o' War marked the first time he had won at even weights. Kelso had given away pounds in the past.

At the same time, trainer Allen Jerkens indicated Beau Purple will stay at Aqueduct and ship to Laurel about a week before the International.

"We haven't decided yet," Jerkens said. "If we run at Laurel State, we will ship from there to Laurel the morning after the race. If not, Beau Purple will stay at Aqueduct and ship to Laurel about a week before the International."

Beau Purple, a 5-year-old, injected himself solidly into the horse of the year picture by scoring a two length victory over Kelso last Saturday in the Man o' War Stakes at Belmont. The triumph sidebracketed Kelso's bid for an unprecedented third consecutive horse of the year title.

Acceptances for six foreign horses also have been received to oppose the United States trio in the International. They include Match III and Kistine of France, Pardou of England, Delvin of Italy, Takamagahara of Japan and Lebon M. L. of Canada.

Three U. S. Horses Vie

Kelso, Beau Purple and Carry Back, who was fifth in the Man o' War, all have a shot at the championship — and all are due to start in the 11th running of the International.

If Jerkens decides to enter Beau Purple in the Trenton, he'll get another shot at Carry Back prior to the global classic. A victory there would move either horse ahead in the battle for the championship.

Beau Purple had the extra point. Allegany also scored a safety in the second period.

The game hasn't changed in its demand on the human body since 1869," said J. P. Dolan, chairman of the health and physical education department of Missouri Teachers College.

"I charge that the American boy has changed, not football," he said.

The Southern Cal Trojans, who are ranked No. 3 nationally with a 5-0 record, are hosts to Washington in a game that will be regionally televised in the West. Washington, ranked No. 8 nationally, also is unbeaten in six games but has been tied twice. Last year they played to a 0-0 tie.

Rideout threw three touchdown passes and kicked an extra point in leading the Spiders to a 21-20 upset.

Rideout was pushed for the honors by end Charlie Brendle of The Citadel and tackle Bill Walsh of Virginia Military Institute in the balloting by members of the Southern Conference Sportswriters Association.

Probationary Status Of East Tennessee, Kansas Terminated

NEW YORK (UPI) — The policy-making council of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Tuesday terminated the probationary status of the University of Kansas and East Tennessee State and restored them to full rights of membership including participation in post-season football and basketball games.

Kansas was placed on probation for two years on Oct. 26, 1960 for three violations of recruiting athletes, one of which involved a $1,564 automobile given to basketball star Wilt Chamberlain.

The Mountaineers edged Elk Garden and Paw Paw high schools will compete today at the Fort Cumberland Golf Course in the third annual cross-country championship meet of the Potomac Valley Conference.

Beall coached by Enordor "Moose" Arnone, is the defending champion, and will be seeking its third straight conference title.

The Mountaineers edged Elk Garden last year, 25-30, and in 1960 won the crown by scoring 27 points to Elk Garden's 28.

Today's two-mile test will get underway at 3:30 p.m.

Squirrel, Turkey Hunting Season Will End Today

Maryland's squirrel and turkey season ends today at sunset.

Never in the past 50 years have squirrels been as scarce as they were this season. It is obvious that something drastic has happened to our gray squirrels as the situation seems general throughout the Middle Atlantic States and biologists will most likely be called upon to study the problem.

On the other hand the wild turkey crop has been good and there was seldom a day during the entire season that county game wardens did not check hunters with turkeys. Yet the wardens estimate that at least 50 per cent of the native stock will be held over.

They agree that hunting pressure only tends to make the wild turkey wilder and more difficult to bag.

Black Hawks Win, 5-3

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ab McDonald scored two goals and an assist Tuesday night to take over the National Hockey League scoring lead with 11 points and spark the Chicago Black Hawks to a 5-3 triumph over the New York Rangers.

Oilers Ask Waivers On End Bill Groman

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Houston Oilers placed All-AFL end Bill Groman on waivers. Tuesday, breaking up what was once the most feared pair of pass catchers in the league.

Groman teamed with flanker back Charley Hennigan to give the Oilers a double long pass scoring threat that helped them to championships in 1960 and 1961.

Oiler coach Frank (Pop) Ivy said he had reviewed films of the last four games and decided that Groman was "not playing up to his capabilities."

Schools Reclassified Doug Waited 5 Years
A 1930 Fight Program Babe Far Out In Front

By C. V. BURNS

ROBERT E. PENCE, supervisor of physical education for Allegany county public schools, reports that Allegany, Beal, and Fort Hill high schools have been reclassified for the 1962-63 basketball season and that the trio will compete as Class A schools during the coming campaign.

Last season Allegany and Fort Hill were in Class AA and Beal was in Class A along with Mt. Savage.

Mt. Savage drops down to Class B along with Bruce and Valley while Oldtown and Flintstone retain their Class C rating.

The change made by the state association means that Frederick, South and North Hagerstown will not meet Allegany county schools in the district eliminations in March as they remain in Class Double A.

Classification are determined by enrollment of boys in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades of state high schools. There are 26 Class AA schools with enrollment of 600 to 1300. Only 23 schools are in Class A (300-599), 46 schools in Class B (125-299) and 43 schools in Class C with 124 enrollment as tops.

Heading the Class AA schools is Montgomery Blair of Silver Spring with 1317. Next in order are Northwestern 1220, Kenwood 1173, Glen Burnie and Woodlawn (Baltimore county) 1099.

Of the 26 schools in Class AA eight are in Baltimore county, seven in Prince Georges and six in Montgomery. There are two each in Anne Arundel and Washington counties and one in Frederick.

Alegany occupies 29th place in enrollment in the state with 562 for the three top grades. Fort Hill is 30th with 545 and Beal 44th with 304.

Valley High's enrollment is 189, Bruce's 189, Mt. Savage 153, Flintstone 46 and Oldtown 35.

The change also affects Southern High School of Oakland and which becomes a Class B school this year after competing in A last season. Southern's enrollment is 279. Northern High with 187 enrollment remains in Class B.

Tournament plans will be discussed at a meeting to be held in December.

DOUG COCHRAN had to wait five years before he developed his first winning football team at South Hagerstown High School and now look at those Rebels.

During the first four years (1957-1960) the Rebels won only seven games, lost 29 and played three ties. They've copped 15 out of 17 in the last two seasons, boast an 11-game winning streak and own a 6-year mark of 22-31-3.

Cochran has been South High's head coach since the school came into the football picture.

Nice going, Doug.

Republicans Back 8-Point County Plan

Ebert Urges Early Pinto Bridge Action

An eight-point program adopted by Republican candidates for County Commissioner was outlined last night by Robert Little Ebert during a Republican campaign rally in Corriganville.

Mr. Ebert, a member of the GOP "team" of Carder, Ebert and Shinnamont, discussed the team's "positive program of action" at the rally held in the Corriganville Fire Hall.

He pledged that members of the team, if elected, will:

- Work for the creation of a County Engineering Department.
- Strive to find a well qualified, experienced health officer to head the County Health Department.

- Support the Board of Education in long-range plans for a better school system for Allegany County.

- Endeavor to find funds to build a new county jail.

- Promote the creation of privately-owned, state-approved nursing homes and homes for the aged.

- Cooperate with units working together to make the county a better place to live, and work with citizens of incorporated communities in solving mutual problems.

- Support county legislators and others interested in pushing through the new Pinto Bridge, a new Wiley Ford Bridge and the rebuilding of Route 36.

- Strive to keep the best interests of the county in mind while seeking answers that are fair and honest.

Would Be Asset

Elaborating, Mr. Ebert said the creation of a County Engineering Department would be a valuable asset in seeking solutions to water and sewage problems, saying good engineering is vital "if we are to make Allegany County attractive to new industry."

On the school plank of the platform, he said "our immediate concern is for the building of already approved new junior high schools" to relieve overcrowded Fort Hill and Allegany high schools and that the team hopes' through wise allocation of tax dollars to reward the teaching profession."

On the nursing home issue, he said surveys of the Allegany County Commission on Problems of the Aging show that "right now we have an immediate need for an additional 200 beds for the proper care of our old folks."

Urging the election of Republican state-wide and congressional candidates, Gorman E. Getty, local attorney, said the Republican Party has offered a slate whose qualifications are unassailable.

He said each has made concrete proposals for improving public service in the office he seeks and is beyond personal attacks.

Hits 'Phony Issue'

Mr. Getty said he has found nothing in the way of a concrete proposal by the administration for improvement in state government.

He said the net result is that there are no great Democratic issues and "having none they want us to have none," and when questioned gave the defense of "phony issue."

The "phony issue" answer has been made, he said, concerning talk about the release of the Pollack-Tawes tape recordings, the history of the Savings and Loan Law, and Route 36.

He said if Republicans mention that Thomas F. Johnson, a candidate for re-election to the House of Representatives and a member of the state-wide Democratic ticket, has been indicted by a federal grand jury "we are immediately charged with raising a 'phony issue' or of prejudging the government's case against him."

"We are prejudging nothing," Mr. Getty said. "We are simply stating a fact."

Post Office Notes Time Changes For Collection Boxes

Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon cautions all patrons using street letter boxes for depositing mail to take notice that many changes have been made in the collection time at the boxes.

With the discontinuance of daylight saving time Sunday, the main dispatch to eastern cities has been changed approximately one hour. Baltimore and Ohio Train 12 now leaves Cumberland at 7:05 p.m. Under DST the time was 8:05 p.m.

In order to assure next-day delivery in most Eastern metropolitan areas, it is essential that mail dispatches from Cumberland be made via Train 12, Mr. Conlon said. The collection schedules have been set up to meet that dispatch.

GOP Campaign Unit Plans Luncheon

Republican campaign workers will hold a special dutch treat luncheon Thursday at noon in the grill room of the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

U.S. Senator J. Glenn Beall will be the honored guest and will speak.

James S. Getty, GOP Campaign committee chairman, will preside.

The Questions:

Most Voters Know Little Of Constitutional Issues

This is the first of three articles explaining the constitutional amendments and referenda on which the voters of Maryland will ballot when they go to the polls November 6. Background information was supplied by the Department of Legislative Reference.

Most of the voters of Maryland are well aware that an election will be held next week.

They probably could name a good many of the candidates, especially in the five state-wide contests.

However, a question concerning the five constitutional amendments and four referenda upon which the Maryland voters are to make decision next week probably would draw nothing but a blank stare.

Constitutional amendments and referenda generally in Maryland draw a comparatively light vote because they require more than a mere choice between two individuals whose names are printed clearly on the voting machines.

Two years ago, for instance, when 1,053,546 Marylanders voted in the Kennedy-Nixon contest for President of the United States, far less than half of them bothered to express an opinion on the 15 constitutional amendments and one referendum on the ballot at the same time.

FEW VOTE ON QUESTIONS

Incidentally, all 16 measures received a favorable vote from a majority of those who did take the trouble to ballot on them.

However, the vote on these measures ranged between a low total of 392,782 and a high of 458,524. The low figure is only 37.2 per cent of those voting in the presidential election and the high was 43.4 per cent.

This article will discuss briefly the first three constitutional amendments which will appear on the ballot next week.

QUESTION NO. 1

Question No. 1 to be decided next week is a local matter involving condemnation in Baltimore and attitudes of the courts which offend, will prove more effective in the future.

The point system, he said, has served a worthwhile purpose but has not accomplished its objective. He expressed hope that the system, dependent upon efficient work of law enforcement agencies and sewage problems, saying good engineering is vital "if we are to make Allegany County attractive to new industry."

On the school plank of the platform, he said "our immediate concern is for the building of already approved new junior high schools" to relieve overcrowded Fort Hill and Allegany high schools and that the team hopes' through wise allocation of tax dollars to reward the teaching profession."

On the nursing home issue, he said surveys of the Allegany County Commission on Problems of the Aging show that "right now we have an immediate need for an additional 200 beds for the proper care of our old folks."

HITS 'PHONY ISSUE'

Mr. Getty said he has found nothing in the way of a concrete proposal by the administration for improvement in state government.

He said the net result is that there are no great Democratic issues and "having none they want us to have none," and when questioned gave the defense of "phony issue."

The "phony issue" answer has been made, he said, concerning talk about the release of the Pollack-Tawes tape recordings, the history of the Savings and Loan Law, and Route 36.

C&P To Build Service Center

An allocation of $116,000 for a new service center at Cumberland was authorized Monday by the board of directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company.

The service center will be erected at Blackiston and Queen streets to provide garage facilities for company vehicles.

The local expenditures was one of more than $4,400,000 approved by the board at its meeting. During the past 12 months the phone company has approved expenditures totaling nearly $61,500,000, according to L. Mercer Smith, vice president.

Also authorized Monday were projects in Baltimore City, Baltimore and Montgomery counties, Edgewood, Westminster district and in Landover and Ashton, areas adjacent to Washington.

Optimists Plan Halloween Party

The Bedford Road Optimist Club will hold a Halloween party at 7 p.m. at the Bedford Road fire hall.

All children in the Bedford Road area are invited to attend of the value of the property is movies will be shown and refreshments will be served.

School Bus Inspection Will Be Held Next Week

The second required inspection of school buses this school year provides for inspection at Fort Hill High School at 8:30 a.m. and at Mt. Savage School at 1:30 p.m.

On Monday, buses at Flintstone will be checked at 8:30 a.m.; at Piney Plains at 10:15 a.m.; and at Oldtown School at 1:30 p.m.

Because of a play at Fort Hill High School on Wednesday, November 7, the schedules for Wednesday, November 7, the schedules for Wednesday and Thursday have been switched. As a result, the new Wednesday schedule calls for buses to be inspected at Beall High School at 8:30 a.m., at Valley High School at 10 a.m. and at Bruce High School at 11:30 a.m. because of travel on the shoulder and at Cooks in Rawlings at 2 p.m.

Mr. Radcliffe said he will ask the drivers to make sure when children are discharged and must cross the road, that children cross in front of the bus and at least 10 feet ahead, and to give the traffic behind a break when possible.

He also announced that qualified substitute bus drivers for the county are needed.
